Education

Computer Programming and Analysis with Honors
Seneca Polytechnic - Toronto, ON | Jan 2021–Dec 2023

- Achieved a 3.8/4.0 GPA, reflecting a strong command over various programming languages, web development, databases, and tools.
- Honed analytical abilities through comprehensive coursework and hands-on projects.

Projects

- Carpooling Web App | HTML, Angular, JavaScript, CSS, TypeScript | Final Group Project

The app has a login page for students and staff to track activity, advanced search filters by hobbies, schedules, and majors, and options to post or request trips. The "Rides" module shows ride details and costs. Users can manage accounts, request refunds, and rate companions. Notifications give ETA and driver info. Admins handle verifications, policies, and user privileges.

- Fragments Microservice | Docker, JavaScript, AWS, HTML

Fragments Microservice is designed to support multiple formats, including text, JSON, and images, sourced from various platforms such as IoT devices and mobile apps. The service integrates seamlessly with existing systems, utilizing HTTP REST API for CRUD operations, format conversions, and secure data storage. It incorporates GitHub for automatic building, testing, and AWS deployment. The system is scalable to manage large data volumes and ensures proper authorization for data isolation.
